

IN SHORT

Design Winners

The sales office of the Radio City condominium project on Jarvis St., above, earned Mike Niven Interior Design Inc. a bronze award last week from the Association of Registered Interior Designers of Ontario. The innovative two-tower condo project by Context Developments, launched this year, will share the former CBC site with the National Ballet School of Canada. Like the modern design for the building, the sales office and model suite by Niven are sleek, light and contemporary. Another winner at ARIDO awards, held during the IIDEX/NeoCon Canada design show at Exhibition Place, was II by IV Design Associates.

The company, which is involved with a soon-to-be-launched condo project in Etobicoke, Tides of Mystic Pointe, took home a silver for the 600-square-foot living space it created for last January's Interior Design Show. The company's Space Concepts 2001, right, featured a brilliant white environment with geodesic dome sheltering a white Ultrasuede bed.
